The meeting was opened with singing. Prayer was made by W. B. Oleson.

The new president not being present at the meeting Mr. W. R. Castle was requested to continue to act as chairman for the evening.

From the musical committee—a piece was rendered by Miss Paty on the violin accompanied by Mrs. C. L. Carter at the piano.

Before discussing the appropriations, the treasurer's annual report was called for and read.

It was voted that the report be accepted, and ordered printed in the next annual report.

The list of appropriations for the coming year was then considered and the following appropriations made:

The Recording Secretary read his annual report which was accepted, and ordered printed in the Annual Report.

The annual report of the Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. L. B. Coan, was then read and accepted and was ordered printed in the annual report, leaving out certain portions.

Owing to lack of time the President's address was postponed to take the place of the Maile Wreath at the next meeting of the Society.

Adjourned to meet next at the residence of Dr. Beckwith.

Respectfully submitted,

W. J. FORBES,
Recording Secretary.

The attendance at meetings is not nearly so good as it was a few years ago. The average attendance for the past year has been thirty.

The Maile Wreath has been well conducted and some very interesting and instructive editorials have been read. At one meeting, instead of the usual editorials, a debate was held, on the topic, "Is the British Rule in the Gilbert Islands to be desired ?" Rev. S. E. Bishop was appointed for the affirmative and Dr. Emerson for the negative.

Respectfully submitted,

W. J. FORBES,
Recording Secretary.

REPORT OF THE FOREIGN AND HOME CORRESPONDING SECRETARY.

ABROAD.

In vain for several years have been the appeals to the American Churches for more laborers for Micronesia; not a man to relieve Dr. Pease, not one to aid Mr. Snelling. One sweet faced, warm-hearted young lady, moved by Mrs. Logan's example and personal influence, came last year from Buffalo to join Mrs. Logan at Ruk. Miss Palmer bravely went back to toils and trials, taking up new work in the Girls' School at Kusaie. These were the only American Missionaries who sailed on the Morning Star, June 18th, 1892. Three of the graduates of the North Pacific Institute with their wives were appointed by the Hawaiian Board to the Gilbert Islands mission. These were also passengers. And there was the Captain's bride, Mrs. Sarah Smith Garland, possessed of the same missionary spirit that had marked her service in her five years devotion to Micronesian girls. On the 27th of March, two months earlier than she was due, the Star returned to Honolulu. Another disabling in the series of her many mishaps had prevented her from doing all the work assigned her. Miss Fletcher, having been ill almost unto death, and Miss Little, worn with five years continuous service, were brought hither on their way to the home land. Miss Kinney came to care for Miss Fletcher by the way and tarries here until the departure of the Star. The clouds gather in Micronesia. At distant Ruk Mr. Snelling fails in health. Savages, more savage, Captain Garland thinks, than any other he has ever met, fight their dreadful battles and give little heed to gospel messages. But some light shines out from the Girls' School. Mrs. Logan writes that the girls seem entirely satisfied with their efforts to make them happy. She sends a leaflet, the "Twenty Third Psalm in the Ruk language," printed she said "on our little press, type setting done by a girl about eleven years old." At Mokil, the Girls' School transplanted thither from Ponape has been disbanded. Mr. and Mrs. Rand and Miss Foss wait and watch. Will the door ever open that they may resume work on Ponape, where in spite of all protests, the Spaniards stand defiant, crying "hands off" to those who have a right to be gathering harvests there? The Germans tighten their hold on the Marshall Islands and fling one obstacle after another in the progress of mission work. Dr. Pease and Miss Little, however, made their tour of the group. Mr. Channon and Miss Hoppin toured through the Gilbert Islands. These England has appropriated to herself, and it is hoped this will result in good to the natives, especially in restraining them from chronic warfare. Mr. Walkup, as missionary captain, in command of the little gasoline yacht, the "Hiram Bingham" is able to have that supervision of the field so necessary for the strengthening of the churches. On her next trip the Morning Star will probably carry an edition of the entire Gilbert Island Bible. In ten months this was put through the press at the American Bible House in New York. Most thorough proof reading, every page having, at least, four readings, was done by the translator and his wife. The debilitating heat of the summer and the severity of a northern winter were somehow endured by Mr. and Mrs. Bingham and not one day was the work retarded by any failure to meet the daily task.

Rev. O. H. Gulick and wife have spent a portion of the past year with relatives and friends in their aina hanau. A most interesting address on Japan was delivered by Mr. Gulick in the Central Union Church. Mrs. Hattie Gulick Clark favors us with pleasant items of her home. They are on the east coast of Kinsin which they have to leave every three months for passport renewal. Of her mother she says, "She is a host wherever help is needed at home or in the missionary work, where her fertile mind is always devising new methods of interesting the shy multitudes." Of her three boys she writes, "Admont has always been a sturdy fellow over whom the shadow of the death angel has never hovered. Edward has been always very delicate, and almost within the pearly gates twice. Grover is going to be the same kind of a child Admont is. We hope they will be good and useful."

General Armstrong in weakness and disability, sends us greetings, and writes a long missive full of interest. He was then at Tuskegee, Alabama, where while seeking health, he was watching with great satisfaction the successful work of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, conducted by one of his own graduates, about half of the thirty-five assisting teachers being also graduates of Hampton School. As he looks over the list of what the cousins are doing he confesses "I am specially interested in the Industrial School on Kauai for which our friend, Dr. Smith, has done so splendidly. I hope he will not only struggle successfully through this year, but for many years to come, and be established upon a firm foundation."

"Well, we are revolutionized," he exclaims, "Who did it? Who killed Cock Robin? The Queen committed political suicide. It was that. Political ruin follows moral ruin. She gathered where she had sown. Sowed the wind and reaped the whirlwind." Of the Hawaiian Commissioners at Washington he speaks in the highest terms, they were "dignified, conservative, prudent and very reasonable." Three of the five Commissioners were "cousins" by birth. Of these one, L. A. Thurston, has been appointed to the honorable position of Hawaiian Minister to Washington.

From Rev. S. W. Whitney we are in receipt of a booklet, "a class memorial of the surviving members of a class of 28 that graduated at Amherst College fifty years ago last June." The booklet contains ten photos: that of our cousin shows him not greatly changed in the last thirty years. He writes: "People in this country are considerably interested in Hawaii just now. Wife suggests that it might be a good thing for me to prepare a lecture on the Islands and deliver it here and elsewhere. But I tell her that, like Nehemiah in rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem, I am doing a great work so that I cannot come down." In April of 1892, Mr. Whitney received and accepted a call to Ashfield, Mass.

We have had from Mrs. Bingham a graphic account of one of the sessions of that grand convention of Christian Endeavorers held in New York at which she and her husband were privileged to be present. Of the bands of "Juniors" filing into the church she says, "It was a sight never to be forgotten. It seemed a foretaste of the heavenly home when the workers for the Master shall come into His presence bringing their sheaves with them."

A charming letter from San Sabastian reports good progress in the work of Cousins William and Alice Gulick. Your Secretary finds it a trial, with such letters in hand, that much must pass unquoted in her report.

"On Mrs. Gulick's return to Spain, she at once set about the thorough renovation of the large house from which she had been away just two years. The third and fourth stories were turned inside out, the walls and ceilings were scraped and white washed, and all the dormitories of the entire building were thoroughly cleaned and painted, and some fifty iron-bedsteads were dismantled and received each three coats of paint. We had hoped that Cousin Alice might have been relieved this year of much work in the class rooms, as the general direction of the large household and of the school rests on her, and the care of the "woman's" work throughout the mission, besides which, she must keep up a large correspondence, almost enough in itself to engage her entire time. But she has found it necessary to take classes for four hours each day." This testimony of a Spanish pastor is valuable. "The best result to Spain of the discovery of America is the work of evangelization that the American Society is now carrying on in her midst. Happy will be the day for her when Spain shall recognize that fact."

In closing Mr. Gulick says, "We cannot express the intensity of the interest with which we have followed the course of political events in our beloved Islands. With you our hearts leaped with joy at the prospect of the speedy annexation of the Islands to the United States, and now we bitterly mourn the disappointment, the complications, the distress, both financial and moral which it seems must inevitably be caused by the backward move on the part of the Government of the United States. We can only hope and pray that all may come out for the best, but we cannot but ask ourselves, was all this necessary?"

HOMELAND.

Among pleasant items to chronicle is that of the Golden Wedding of Hon. and Mrs. S. N. Castle on the 13th of Oct. 1892. Mr. Castle had had a fall a few days before which confined him to his room, but he gave cordial welcome to friends who called to offer congratulations. Six of their children were with their parents on this glad day under the old homestead roof.

On the 27th of November, farewell exercises were held in the Fort St. Church. These were tender and solemn, and perhaps the old church never seemed so dear to us as when we were just about to leave it. On the 4th of December, an audience of over a thousand gathered at the dedicatory exercises of the beautiful new church. These were marred for some by the thought that a heavy debt rested on the house. The efforts on the part of many to lift this and the munificent aid of one of the cousins give us occasion again to rejoice.

Eight years our honored member, Mrs. Mary Clement Leavitt, has been travelling round the world as Missionary of the W.C.T.U. For rest and restoration to health she turned her steps hither and her presence among us was greatly enjoyed for several months. To this land she accords the palm for Christian hearts and homes—and for an abiding place would choose this above any other. The meetings of our various benevolent societies were enriched by her stirring words of counsel and encouragement.

Among our visitors we have welcomed John S. Bishop and his charming wife. After much study and preparation for his profession both in the States and in Europe, Dr. Bishop has located his family at Portland, Or.

As the year closes our ranks are markedly thinned by the absence of members on their way to the World's Columbian Exposition. We ought in the coming year to have valuable reports from them of what they see and hear. One family leaves us not to return, that of Rev. W. B. Oleson. Our best wishes follow them, though we sincerely deplore the loss of their influence and aid in every good cause.

Of the work done in the schools which our benefactions aid, particulars will be given by the Principals. Zealous efforts were made to sustain and carry forward the Industrial School Home, but our treasury did not warrant the continued heavy expenditures. Miss Carpenter's devotion to the interests of that enterprise will not be forgotten. On the close of the institution she returned to her New England home, and has found winter frosts and snow very severe after her long residence in this balmy clime.

Active in aid for the Provisional Government, and earnest in desires for the best interests of the land are all the cousins on these shores. Even the youths came nobly forward in the trying days of the revolution in January when lives and property and honor were at stake, to shoulder their muskets, and walk their beats, and run on errands. Those absent at school or college in the States wished themselves here to bear a share in the establishing of better times. We pray and wait for continuous waving of the Stars and Stripes over the Capitol of Hawaii nei, and for the blessing of a covenant keeping God on this land made sacred by the lives and labors of our fathers, and by so many of our parents' graves.

DEATHS.

Rev. J. D. Paris died at Forest Home, Kona, Hawaii, on the 28th of July, 1892. His illness, the result of a cold, was short but severe. He will be remembered as a wise, efficient laborer in the Master's vineyard. Though enfeebled by age he retained to the last an influence over the native pastors and churches about him. His years numbered 82 and ten months.

Dr. Seth L. Andrews was 83 years and eight months, when he entered the life beyond. This was at Romeo, Mich., on Feb. 17, 1893. Dr. Andrews was one of the famous reinforcement of 1837—and for twelve years was stationed at Kailua, Hawaii. Always interested in the welfare of this land he bore it on his heart in prayer to God. We quote from Dr. Lyon's "In Memoriam" published in The Friend. "His end was like a translation. He had not been well for a few days, suffering from shortness of breath. In the evening after family worship, during which he tenderly petitioned for his beloved Hawaii and the children in Honolulu, he was reclining in an easy chair while his bed was prepared, when Mrs. Andrews saw a little motion of one hand followed by a slight gasp for breath, and the loving heart that had beat so long and faithfully for humanity was still."

No less like a translation was the going hence of Rev. James Bicknell, Sept. 18, 1892. He had preached that evening with unwonted fervency against the Lottery bill, in Kaumakapili church. It was the last of his countless efforts for the uplifting of Hawaiians. As the people, saying alohas, stood near him as he was about to leave the church, he sank to the ground.—Kindly hands lifted him into a carriage. He was heard to say, "It is all right." And it was right. It was the Lord's way of taking his servant into His joy.

On the 28th of Sept. 1892, at Crafton, Cal., Jesus called a little child to his arm and blessed him. It was Percy Sinclair Gay, whose coming to the earthly home had been only sixteen days before.

On October 28, 1892, Geraldine F. Swanzy, bright and beautiful, aged 3 years and 5 months ended her little mission of love and went among the ministering angels.

Among the earlier missionaries to Micronesia were Dr. and Mrs. Pierson. On account of health they many years ago returned to the States, where both have been earnest and successful laborers. We have learned of the death of Mrs. Pierson, but do not know the date. It is said of her that "she passed thro many privations and dangers, but with never a fear or anxious care as to the result. She put her life in God's hands, to be used by him and for him. She feared death as little as sleep. She was ever a cheerful, joyous Christian."

"And there shall be no more curse; but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it, and his servants shall serve him, and they shall see his face and his name shall be in their foreheads—Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city."

LYDIA BINGHAM COAN,
Cor. Secretary.

IN MEMORIAM.

GEN'L S. C. ARMSTRONG.

The mail that came just after our Annual Meeting brought the sad intelligence of General Armstrong's death. Sad loss to us, but to him unspeakable gain and fulness of glory. His warfare was accomplished and his victory won on the 11th of May. Henceforth for him there is service without toil, and a commission of high behests without anxiety and care. But Hampton will miss him; the North and the South will miss him; and who can make good his loss to us as faithful rememberer of our society?

Noble tributes to his memory have been paid by many friends, and thousands have been told the story of his brave, devoted life. It is hoped this may yet be more fully told; and may the example of his consecration to duty ever lead us on to nobler living and doing.

Funeral services were held in the Armstrong Memorial Chapel, and, attended by his family, by teachers and students of the Institute, and by loving friends, his remains were interred with military honors in the school cemetery where he had asked to be laid to rest.

IN MEMORIAM.

[Published by vote of the Society.]

Among Miss Carpenter's last words with me as we stood together upon the deck of the Australia, the morning she left these islands, was the earnest request that I would write, even though it should be very briefly, some tribute to the memory of Annie Puhī, and this tribute she begged might be for the hearing of the Cousins, whose protégé Annie had been. If I remember right, Annie was put into Miss Carpenter's care when only three years old. Through all the years of childhood and of young maidenhood, she was possessed of traits of character rare in Hawaiians. Her teacher spoke of her as the one exception whose word she could always accept as truth. She was exceedingly gentle and winsome in her ways, grateful for the benefits she received, and ever ready to heed the counsel of her instructors. During her last years at the Makawao Seminary she was given a class of the younger pupils to teach. From personal observation while assisting in the school can testify to the fidelity with which she met this task from day to day, and to her success in maintaining order among the little folks, and in inspiring them to do good work in their lessons. Had her life been spared she doubtless would have had an influence for good in any school where she might have taught. She has through infinite love and wisdom been taken, as we trust, to the safe shelter of the heavenly home, and for her we can but rejoice at escape from snares and temptations.

REPORT OF THE HILO BOYS' BOARDING SCHOOL.

The year as a whole has been an unusually pleasant one, there being no interruptions from sickness, and when we came to the close it was remarked by many that very creditable progress had been attained in the use of the English language. Our closing exercises were on May 11 and 12. The parents of the pupils are showing a greater interest in the school, Capacious as our hall is, many were obliged to remain outside for the graduating exercises. The school-room work has been under Miss Ellen Lyman's and my own instruction. The music has been taught by Mr. D. Kapahee, a Hawaiian and former student at the school. He has done excellent work with the School Band, and has aided Mr. Terry in the field work. Several of the older boys had specimens of their work from the shops on exhibition; one a piano-stool, already sold, another a pair of crutches for a lame friend, who could not return this year to graduate; a koa table, a pair of spurs, &c. The class in Printing has made a small singing-book and the "Souvenir" sent you. The fields are in good order, the coffee-trees are beginning to bear.

During the year twenty of the pupils have joined the Haili Church, so that now over one-half of the school are members of some Hawaiian Church. From the interest and active part taken in the voluntary prayer meeting and the daily life of each, we feel that all are sincere in taking this step.

Please thank the "Cousins" for their continued interest and help.

MRS. C. R. TERRY,
Principal,

REPORT OF THE EAST MAUI FEMALE SEMINARY.

We have been fairly prospered during the year, though it has been a matter of regret that our numbers have been lower than usual. We have had with us seventy-eight girls during the year.

During the early part of the year we were troubled by sickness, but the latter months have been entirely free from such care. The teachers have been favored with almost unbroken good health.

We have not been able to make as frequent changes in the girls' work as we could wish, because the number of teachers was small for a part of the year. I am not sure that this has been a great disadvantage, however, as some have become more proficient in cooking and other work than they would otherwise have done.

We have taken the first steps toward dress-making, but the arrangements for that work are not fully developed yet. We hope that they may be in the near future.

We have thought best to devote the donation from the Cousin Society to the support of ministers' daughters who need aid, as has been done in the past. Of these one has been in the Seminary nine years, one seven years and two for five years. We hope they may all continue with us for some time yet. They are quite young and our best work is done for those who remain longest with us.

We have had constant encouragement in our work both from friends outside and from the excellent spirit prevalent among our girls.

We wish that the prayers of our friends may be added to ours, for our girls, as they go from the protection of our home for the summer.

Yours sincerely,

MARTHA McLENNAN,
Principal.

REPORT OF MAUNA OLIVA SEMINARY, KOHALA, HAWAII.

This has been thus far a very encouraging and prosperous year. We have enrolled sixty-five pupils this year, an increase in number every year since the school re-opened. The girls are well behaved, healthy and happy; four have united with the church. There has been no sickness to retard the work of the school. The three hundred dollars given by the H. M. C. S. pay for six girls, ministers' daughters, who could not be in the school but for this aid. There are three more very promising girls I want much to have enter the school next year, their mother is a widow and cannot send them. The only safety for many of the native and half-white girls is to keep them in a home school until they have homes of their own, or become teachers.

We are very thankful for the past favors and hope they will increase next year.

We regret that two of the teachers leave this year, but trust that the Lord will send us good and faithful helpers.

M. F. WHITTIER,
Principal.

REPORT OF KAWAIAHAO SEMINARY HONOLULU.

Kawaiahao Seminary is indebted to the H. M. C. S. for assistance rendered to six girls during the past school year, beside their annual contribution for teachers' salaries. Two of the girls, so assisted, were married at the close of the first term and are now n décent comfortable homes of their own. One left three months ago on account of ill health. The others are still in school and are doing well. While the girls have been themselves generously helped they have in turn contributed of their small means for others. In the Lima Kokua $44 have been raised and devoted to various missions, and $70 have been paid in monthly installments to Kawaiahao Church.

The school has been very full during the year. This, though a benefit financially, crowds the dormitories and does not make for civilization. In the Sewing Department the supply has not equalled the demand for girls. It would be good business as well as good philanthropy to enlarge this branch and open other industrial departments another year.

It may not be out of place here to say my observation of Hawaiian boys and girls is that the latter are more industrious. Their playtime is constantly employed in crocheting. The crochet habit seems to be constitutional and develops early. The art is not the least of the blessings bequeathed by the missionary mothers. It saves from many of the temptations of idleness. Cigarettes and cards lie in wait for the boys' leisure. It is a thousand pities that no habit of handicraft is in his constitution.

Beside substantial assistance we have received from the community, what has been equally valuable and encouraging, their constant, kindly interest and recognition. And we to whom Honolulu will soon be but a memory, gratefully desire here to place on record our appreciation of the same.

Respectfully submitted,
MARGARET KENWILL.

CHINESE MISSION SCHOOL REPORT.

It is with much pleasure that I respond to the kind request for a brief statement relative to the work of our Chinese Mission Schools. This pleasure is enhanced in no slight degree by the consciousness that "we celestials" have been again "taken up" by the Cousins' Society. We missed greatly the usual pecuniary aid for our work last year, but rejoice to feel that we are again remembered on the appropriation list. Many and warm thanks, dear Cousins, for this friendly aid and remembrance. It helps and cheers our hearts in facing the work, which is opening before us in so encouraging a manner. Hitherto your gifts have been placed to the credit of the Chinese Girls' School. I would say that our Girls' School has been united with our school for boys, and the help that the Cousins' Society gives is felt not only in this Union School but also in our schools in Kohala and Wailuku. The past year has been one full of cheer and encouragement to us. No department of our mission work is producing such good results. In Honolulu some four hundred young men and boys and girls have been connected with our school for a longer or shorter period since last September. Some of these have been for a brief time, others have remained permanently. There are about two hundred in regular attendance. A beautiful new Kindergarten room has been lately added and the group of forty to fifty children which here gathers is an inspiring sight. During the past year a Boarding School for Chinese boys has been opened and we are closing the present term with sixteen pupils. A similar Boarding School for Chinese girls is needed! Will not some of the Cousins come to our help in initiating this noble and important work? Gladly would we welcome some assistance in this direction. Is there not some heart and purse ready to respond to this call? In Wailuku and Kohala our schools are still continued and make bright and encouraging points in those districts. This school work is worthy of your continued care and aid. Scores of young people are feeling its beneficent influence. Through them the parents are acted upon and from this center we believe the mission cause both here and in China is to be helped. Train the children and the future leaders in the cause of truth and righteousness are being trained. There is good material in these young Chinese. Let us seek to enlist it for Christ and His service. It has been said of our noble Cousin, General Armstrong that he had a "horizontal faith"—a faith in his fellow men—we need this, as well as a "perpendicular faith," which looks upwards. Here in the early home of this "true servant of humanity," who gave his life for the Negro and the Indian, will there not come forward those who will, for his sake and in his memory, do something for the education of the Chinaman and the Japanese?

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK W. DAMON.

REPORT OF TREASURER OF HAWAIIAN MISSION CHILDREN'S SOCIETY (FOR YEAR ENDING MAY 27, 1893.)

RECEIPTS.

The sum of $1500 was appropriated at the beginning of the year for the Girls' Industrial Home, but later it was voted that the Home should be closed at the end of August, 1892, that the furniture should be sold, and that the Treasurer should pay whatever sums might be necessary to settle the liabilities of the Home. These things were accordingly done.

The balance of cash held by Miss H. E. Carpenter, Principal of the Home, was also paid to the Treasurer. It should be added that Miss Carpenter drew $100 less than she was entitled to on account of her salary, thus in effect donating that amount to the Society. With this exception, all appropriations for the year have been paid in full.

ADDRESS OF THE RETIRING PRESIDENT.

FORTY YEARS OF THE SOCIETY.

Forty-one years ago a "goodly number" of the children of the Hawaiian Mission met by invitation one evening in the "Old Mission School House" in Kawaiahae. Of the present members of the Society it is very likely that not one half know even the location of that historic old building. Yet it occupied a very important position in the Mission work of thirty years ago and in the annals of the cousins. To quote the language of Asa Thurston in the first annual address, "the object was not very distinctly stated or even determined upon, except that in the mind of some there was a desire that once we might meet our cousin Halsey before he should take his final leave." The idea of continuing the meetings in an organized form was suggested. It met with general approval and a committee on organization reported at a subsequent meeting and finally on June 5, 1852, "The Hawaiian Mission Children Society" was fairly ushered into the circle of kindred associations.

CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES.

The preamble to the constitution then adopted named three objects to be attained: to strengthen the bond of union naturally existing between the cousins; to cultivate a missionary spirit and to aid in the support of the Micronesian mission. During the year 1863-4 the last clause was dropped and the constitution amended to accord therewith. This did not mean the discontinuance of the Micronesian Mission, but broadening the lines of possible work to something more than the foreign field. An amendment to the constitution at the first annual meeting also put the society on its feet as an independent organization by striking out the words "Auxiliary to the Hawaiian Missionary Society." Another amendment opened the office of president to any member of the Society. In the first two years the constitution limited that position to descendants of the Mission. Still another abrogated the requirement that each quarter, the Treasurer pay over the Society funds to the Hawaiian Missionary Society and put some in the hands of the officers for disposal. This, however, amended a by-law. It is a remarkable and interesting fact that thus early in the history of the society did it assert the spirit of freedom and independence. In 1855-6 a Committee on music was created which has continued to the present day to the manifest pleasure and profit of the Society. Another on anonymous communications was instituted which existed until 1861 when it was discontinued and the "Maile Wreath" committee was created for the purpose of more fully developing the intellectual resources of the Society "and to add to the interest of each meeting" since changed to "Missionary interest." In June, 1863, a committee of five, Messrs. L. Chamberlain, Forbes, J. M. Alexander,

Carter and C. H. Judd were appointed, to revise the Constitution and By-Laws of the Society. Their report, adopted a year later made but little change in the constitution, except to provide the Board of Managers as at present constituted. But the By-Laws were thoroughly overhauled and revised and have received but little change since, a fact which bears testimony to their efficient work. The most important change has been the elimination of the Executive Committee, the Board of Managers amply sufficing for the simple requirements of our society. This change was made in 1873, and at the same time two articles, 8 and 9 were inserted in the constitution providing for auxiliary societies. In the past ten years the changes have been very slight in the constitution, perhaps the most notable has been that of article 10 which makes all persons who have been members of the American Protestant Mission ex-officio honorary members of the Society.

LITERARY EXERCISES.

Although not specifically named in the constitution one of the features of the Society from the first has been its literary work. It seems to have been the very wise and pleasant chief method of cultivating "the bond of union which naturally exists" among the cousins. Until the establishment of the Maile Wreath in 1860-1 discussion on various social, religious and political questions occupied the time of each meeting not taken with the reading of correspondence, which was much more frequent in the early years than latterly. It is interesting to know what our cousins talked about in those early days, and a few of the topics are therefore given. The first question brought before the Society, probably in August or September 1852 was "Is it advisable that the children of the Mission be sent to the United States for the procuring of an education?" Among other questions discussed that year are these,

"Our duty as respects the native race of Hawaiians, what to do for them and how to do it." Is it desirable that we have a good knowledge of the Hawaiian language, if so how soon should we commence learning it?"

This question appears to have received an answer in 1859, when the Society adopted this resolution, "Resolved, That it is the duty of each member of this Society to learn the Hawaiian language." At the same time the resolution "Resolved that it be considered the duty of every member of this Society to endeavor to instruct one or more of the Kanaka children" was lost. Perhaps the result might have been different had the question been framed in some less striking manner. No doubt the picture presented to the mind of each cousin—of each resolved into a pedagogue sitting before a tousled-headed itching kanaka youngster—was very grim. Had the question read—"Resolved that it is the pleasant duty of every cousin to teach in the native Sunday Schools, instead of simply enjoying the school of the foreign church" it might have been unanimously adopted.

Still another question discussed in the first year of the society, has a significant interest at this time. It was "Advantages and disadvantages, resulting from the union of these islands with any foreign nation."

In the second year, the following are of note:

"Should Missionaries be obliged to be different from other Christians in respect to their right of holding property?"

"Is it right and expedient for Missionaries and pastors of churches at these islands, to directly advise or influence their people on political questions?"

"The probable effects of inter-island and trans-Pacific Steam Navigation upon the agriculture, commerce, religion and politics of these islands?"

The next year the cousins considered "Is it right for a pious person to marry one who is not?"

"Is it proper for professing christians to attend balls or dancing parties?"

"Is capital punishment justifiable?"

"Obedience to the civil laws—how far is it to go?"

"Is self sufficiency, as has been alleged, too prominent a trait in the character of the young people generally at these islands?"

In 1855 Mr. S. E. Bishop read an essay on the question.

"Did the Protestant Missionaries at these islands make a mistake in using the Hawaiian rather than the English in teaching and printing?"

At a later meeting Mr. S. T. Alexander read an argument on the question, "Is the introduction of the Chinese laborers an advantage to these islands?"

Still later the question was discussed "Would the Hawaiian churches flourish if left entirely to the care of native pastors?"

In 1856 or 7 the discussion of stated questions was abandoned, for the reason as far as can be judged by the reports of that date, that interest flagged. The committee on music and on an anonymous communication were organized and for some years appear to have furnished material of much interest. Beside their work, the reports of these years show that the society received much original information from mission fields. For a short time it acted as a lecture bureau for Honolulu and furnished a course of public lectures. The Maile Wreath, which was established in 1861 has continued to the present day and is likely to exist as long as the Society. It has furnished a delightful medium for the interchange of ideas. It is informal and very picturesque. It contains articles on commerce, history, mythology, philosophy, and every department of science. Many of its articles are of a high degree of literary merit and would do credit to the higher class of publications in any country. While it has not yet accumulated much of ancient Hawaiian history, customs, or religion, yet it has enough to make its pages valuable as a reference of authority. The volumes from the earliest day are worthy of the Society's best care, and now, of a careful index. For a short time the Society ambitiously published extracts from the Maile Wreath in a quarterly form, but the experiment was not considered a success and it was discontinued. It is probable that in the future our little monthly will become even more interesting and valuable. The intellectual capacity of the membership of the Society is constantly higher and there is no reason why the effort devoted to the Maile should decrease.

EXPENDITURES.

Several times during the past forty years partial reports have been made of the sources of income and gross expenditures of the Society. The former have been monthly collections, life and annual memberships, pledges and gifts. But the annual reports show no analysis of the expenditures. In view of the Missionary object of our organization such a review would be interesting and has been prepared. The total amount paid out by the Treasurers to the end of the fortieth year has been \$54,073.31 of which \$5,685.22 was in the first decade, \$7,273.67 in the second, \$14,402.10 in the third, and \$26,712.32 in the fourth. The foreign Missionary work has taken \$15,007.16, \$2,600 of which was for schools, nearly all of the balance being in the direct support of Missionaries. The Hawaiian native work has taken \$29,930.45 for the schools and \$811.56 for home missionary purposes or a total of \$30,742. Chinese girls schools have taken \$1,800. The annual reports have cost \$3,229.93; Clerical work, &c., \$1,291.24; postage and other incidentals \$758.81 or a total of \$6,524.14 for the machinery of the Society. The heaviest expenditure for any one year was in 1890-91 of \$6,769.29 of which \$2,704.79 was on account of the Industrial Home. The lowest year was 1854-5 of \$43.70 which was expenses only, nothing having been paid out for missionary work. The report of 1857-8 shows a loss by a robbery of \$126.96, uncurrent coin has cost the society \$7.55. In the first decade the foreign missionary work took nearly all of the society funds, or \$4,354.97 out of a total of 5,685.22. In the third, but \$25.75 was expended for this purpose out of \$14,402.10. The beneficiaries at home have been the following schools Ragged, Makiki, Kawaiahao, Waialua, Koloa, Makawao, Kohala, Hilo Boys, Haleakala Boys, Lahainaluna, Industrial Home and Miscellaneous schools, besides the Chinese girls, and in other lands various mission schools, and Missionaries. The expenses of the Society have taken a very small fraction over twelve per cent. of its outlay: of foreign missionary work a little over 28 per cent. Fifty-five and a third per cent. has gone to support native schools and children in schools in Hawaii. About 3.33 per cent. for the Chinese work and about one and $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. for home Missionary work, Miscellaneous charities, &c. At least eighty-eight per cent. of all of the expenditures of the Society has been for missionary work.

THE OFFICERS.

A tabulated statement of the officers of the Society is interesting reading. The rule which requires a single term only in the Presidency has resulted in great variety in the first column, a comparatively small number have served two terms. Those who have are A. G. Thurston, 1852-3 and 1854-5; W. D. Alexander, 1858-9 and 1861-2; S. B. Dole, 1870-1 and 1887-8; C. M. Hyde, 1879-80 and 1884-5, and N. B. Emerson, 1883-4 and 1891-2. F. W. Damon while only once President 1885-6, has delivered two presidents addresses; for his own term and while acting as Vice-President in 1874-5; Mr. P. C. Jones the president for that term having solemnly protested that he would not deliver an address. A. F. Judd has been president only once, in 1859-60, but he has been vice-president five times and as a very constant attendant has occupied the chair numberless times. In the first ten years the vice-presidents were all ladies. There was than a long break till 1888-9, when Mrs. B. F. Dillingham was elected. It might be well return to the custom. There are ladies in our number who are quite capable of filling the chair and delivering an eloquent address in case of the president's default, W. O. Smith, A. O. Forbes and W. W. Hall have each served three times, H. Waterhouse, F. W. Damon, H. A. P. Carter, twice each. The Recording Secretaries were changed every year in the early days. W. J. Forbes our present efficient officer has served longer than any other, having filled the office three times in the forty years under review. W. W. Hall served fifteen years as Treasurer, ten of which were consecutive. E. O. White then served four years, followed by F. J. Lowrey with three. But for long continued, faithful and veteran service we must turn to the office of Corresponding Secretary where we find our well-known cousin, M. A. Chamberlain, with twenty-six years of service and one year when she at least presented the report. From 1864 to 1886, she served without a break twenty-two years. Mrs. Coan follows with six years. It is difficult to estimate the services performed by the Corresponding Secretary. It is the most laborious office in the Society and the records show faithful service; now existing in records of great value especially for all those connected with the Cousins.

Notes from the story of the Society would be incomplete without a reference to the public celebration in April, 1887, of the landing of the re-enforcement to the Mission, which was instituted and successfully carried out by our society. It was a memorable and interesting occasion, not to be forgotten by those who took part or who listened to the story of the almost forgotten part. The report of that celebration makes a large pamphlet which, however, is very defective in having neither index nor table of contents.

Is it a sign of failing interest and decay which must result in extinction that so few of the resident Cousins attend our meetings? Over two hundred and sixty of them reside in and near Honolulu. Surely their engagements are not such that a part of one evening a month can not be given to our meetings. The music is always good, the Maile interesting and of a high character, the occasional letters entertaining and the discussions practical and useful. Lastly, the constitution requires the attendance of every member, and active work in the interest of the society, to say nothing of contributing to its support.

BY-LAWS.

ARTICLE I.—OF THE OFFICERS.

SECTION 1. SEC. 4. The Corresponding Secretaries shall carry on the correspondence of the Society at home and abroad; take charge of the books and papers of the Society, excepting the files of the Maile Wreath, and report at its Annual Meeting.

SEC. 5. The Treasurer shall receive and safely keep all moneys belonging to the Society, pay over such moneys as may be directed from time to time by the Board of Managers, for the purpose of defraying such expenses as shall have been incurred by their order, such order having the signature of the Recording Secretary; shall countersign all certificates of membership; and shall, at the Annual Meeting of the Society present an accurate statement of the receipts and disbursements of the Society during the year.

ARTICLE II.—OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

SEC. 1. It shall be the duty of the Board of Managers to superintend all business transactions of the Society not otherwise provided for in the Constitution and to keep full and correct minutes of all its own proceedings.

SEC. 2. Any member of the Society desiring to bring any business before the Board of Managers, shall make known such business in a written application to some member of the Board, who shall lay it before the Board for their action thereon.

SEC. 3. The Board shall decide upon all applications for membership under Articles 7 and 10 of the Constitution; and also upon the disposition of the funds of the Society.

SEC. 4. The minutes of the Board shall be read before the Society at each regular meeting for acceptance and adoption.

SEC. 5. Any vacancies occurring in the Board of Managers, by death or otherwise, shall be refilled by regular election of the Society at the earliest succeeding meeting.

SEC. 7. Special meetings of the Board may be called by the President at his discretion, or by three members thereof.

ARTICLE III.—DUTIES OF MEMBERS.

The members of the Society are expected to attend the regular meetings of the Society, as far as may be possible; to perform all such duties as may, from time to time, be assigned to them; to collect all information that may be useful or interesting to the Society, and at each regular meeting contribute to the funds of the Society, according to their generosity and means.

ARTICLE IV.—OF MEETINGS.

The regular monthly meetings of the Society shall be opened by prayer and singing; the minutes of the last meeting shall be read by the Recording Secretary; the minutes of the Board of Managers shall then be read and acted upon; a collection shall be taken up by the Treasurer; the entertainment provided for in Article 5 shall then be in order; next shall follow miscellaneous business; after which the meeting shall be closed by singing.

The monthly meetings of the Society shall be open to such guests as any of the members may invite as being in sympathy with the Society and its objects.

ARTICLE V.—STANDING COMMITTEES.

There shall be a committee of one on music, who shall be chosen quarterly, to aid in providing for the profitable entertainment of each monthly meeting.

There shall be a committee of four, consisting of two ladies and two gentlemen, to be elected every four months, to conduct a monthly paper, the purpose of which shall be to develop more fully the intellectual resources of the Society, and add to the Missionary interest of each monthly meeting.

There shall be a committee of one, to be appointed annually, whose duty it shall be to provide the editors of the Maile Wreath with suitable stationery, and to be responsible for the safe keeping of the file of the Maile Wreath.

ARTICLE VI.—RULES OF ORDER.

SEC. 1. In Miscellaneous business, no one shall speak more than five minutes at a time, without permission from the Society.

SEC. 2. In all points of order, the presiding officer shall be guided by the rules laid down in Cushing's Manual.

ARTICLE VII.

These By-Laws may be altered or annulled by a vote of two-thirds of the members present at any regular meeting, notice of each amendment having been given at the meeting next preceding.

* By resolution of the Society, the President with the two elective members of the Board of Managers shall constitute a committee on entertainment, whose duty it shall be to secure additional attractions for our regular meetings especially in the line of addresses or lectures.
